

The MULTIVAC Group Launches MultiSeal: A

Breakthrough in Resealable Packaging Technology

International Baking Industry Exposition – Las Vegas, NV – September 14, 2025 –

The MULTIVAC Group, a leading provider of packaging and processing solutions, has partnered with Supertape to introduce MultiSeal. This patent-pending, trademarked packaging innovation redefines convenience, sustainability, and efficiency in resealable packaging.

Leveraging Supertape's technology, MultiSeal delivers a smart, simple, and reliable resealable system designed for thermoforming and flowpack applications.

MultiSeal provides an affordable solution for small to midsize productions to create resealable packages that enhance product freshness, reduce food waste, and lower overall packaging costs—all while improving the consumer experience.

Key benefits of MultiSeal include:

- User-friendly design – Easy to open, reseal, and store.
- Extended freshness – Keeps food fresher, longer.
- Sustainability – Reduces unnecessary packaging and waste.
- Lower total cost of ownership – Uses less material, requires minimal maintenance, and reduces start-up costs.

"MultiSeal is a game-changer for the packaging industry," said Brandon White, Vice President of Sales and Marketing at the MULTIVAC Group. "By combining Supertape's solution expertise with MULTIVAC's decades of packaging innovation, we are delivering a solution that not only addresses consumer convenience but also supports our customers' sustainability and cost-efficiency goals."

MultiSeal is a patent-pending solution for both its innovative design and name, reinforcing the MULTIVAC Group's commitment to driving forward-thinking solutions that meet the evolving needs of the food industry.
